Raum
Mannheim - Heidelberg

The diagram illustrates the railway network between Mannheim and Heidelberg. The main line runs from Mannheim Hbf (left) to Heidelberg Hbf (right). Key stations and branches include:

- Mannheim Hbf: The starting point on the left.
- Mhm Rbf: A branch from Mannheim Hbf.
- Neu Edingen / Friedrichsfeld: A station reached via branches 226, 225, and 223.
- Abzw Hbg-Wieblingen: A branch point leading to Ri Neckargemünd (line 41) and Heidelberg Hbf (line 1/41/223).
- Abzw Mhm Friedrichsfeld Süd: A branch point leading to Abzw Ziehbrunnen (line 224) and Heidelberg Hbf (line 1/41/223).
- Abzw Ziehbrunnen: A branch point leading to Schwetzingen (line 224) and Hockenheim (line 310).
- Schwetzingen: A station on the main line.
- Hockenheim: A station on the main line.
- Abzw Saalbach: A branch point leading to Ri Gernersheim (line 245) and Abzw Molzau (line 311).
- Abzw Molzau: A branch point leading to Graben-Neudorf (line 245) and Abzw Bruchsal Nord (line 313).
- Graben-Neudorf: A station on the main line.
- Abzw Bruchsal Nord: A branch point leading to Ri Bruchsal (line 1) and Ri Stuttgart (line 310).
- Abzw Ubstadt-Weiher: A branch point leading to Ri Bruchsal (line 1) and Ri Stuttgart (line 312).
- Abzw Rollenberg: A branch point leading to Ri Stuttgart (line 310).
- Ri Stuttgart: The final destination on the right.

The diagram uses numbers (1, 2, 310, 311, 312, 313, 223, 224, 225, 226, 245) to identify specific lines and branches. Stations are represented by rectangles, and branch points are indicated by lines diverging from the main route.

Zeitz

The diagram illustrates the railway network around Zeitz, showing connections to Leipzig, Weißenfels, and Gera. The main line runs vertically through Zeitz, with branches to the west and east.

Key Locations and Lines:

- Leipzig (v.u.n. Leipzig): Located at the top of the main line.
- Weißenfels (v.u.n. Weißenfels): Located to the west of Zeitz, connected by a horizontal line.
- Gera (v.u.n. Gera): Located at the bottom of the main line.
- Zeitz: The central junction point.

Stations and Platforms:

- LZZN: Station between Zeitz and Weißenfels.
- LZ G: Station between Zeitz and Weißenfels.
- LZ: Main station in Zeitz.
- LTZ: Station to the east of Zeitz, connected by a dashed line.

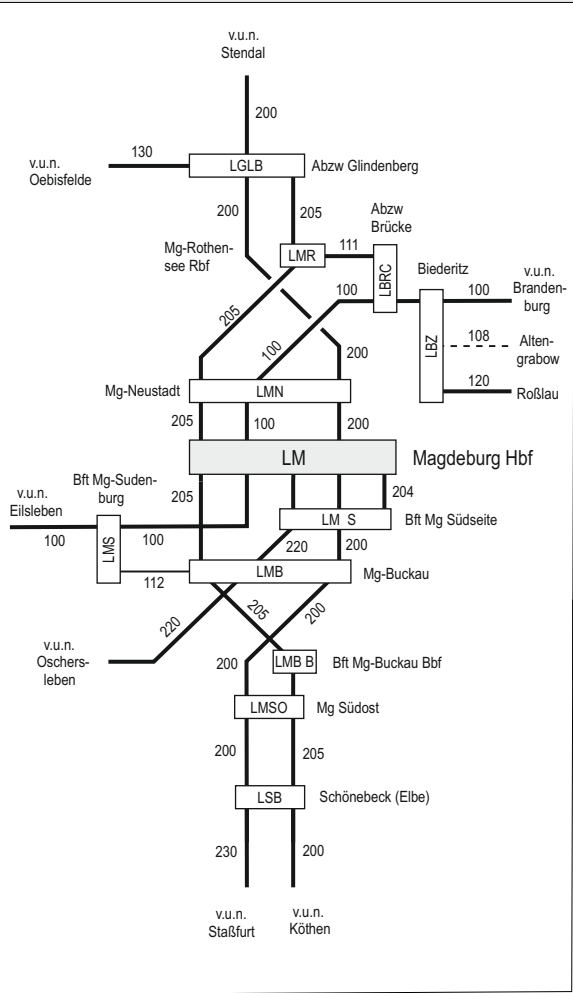

Distances (in km):

- Leipzig to Zeitz: 610
- Weißenfels to Zeitz: 430
- Zeitz to Gera: 610
- Zeitz to LTZ: 615 (via dashed line)
- Zeitz to LZ G: 613
- Zeitz to LZZN: 430

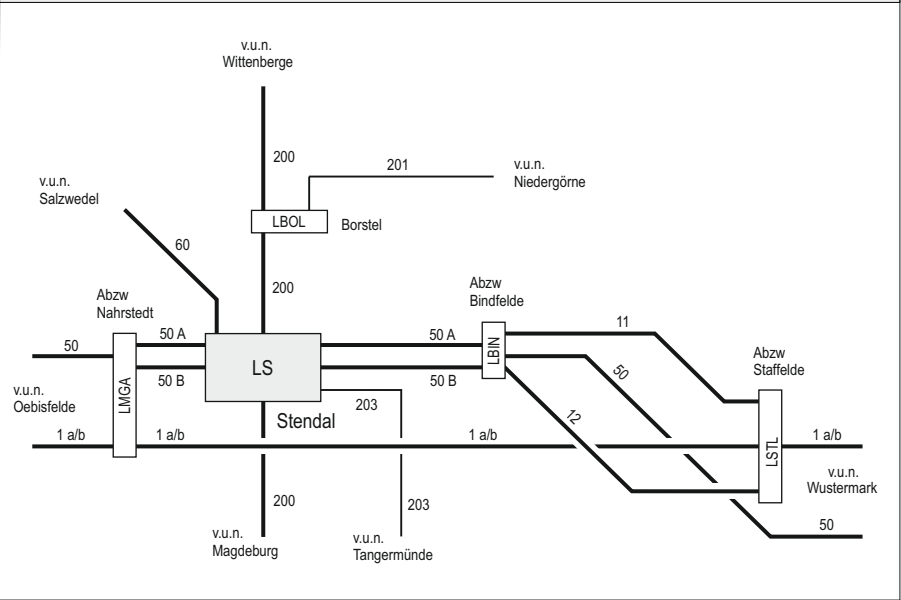

A phylogenetic tree of the UG clade in the tribe Gerae. The tree is rooted at the top with a node labeled 'v.u.n. Weimar' and a branch length of 440. The main stem has a node labeled 'v.u.n. Zeitz' with a branch length of 610. The first internal node is labeled 'UG T' with a branch length of 440 to the left. The second internal node is labeled 'UG G' with a branch length of 610 to the right. The third internal node is labeled 'UG' with a branch length of 440 to the right. The fourth internal node is labeled 'UGZ D' with a branch length of 670 to the left. The fifth internal node is labeled 'UGZ' with a branch length of 440 to the right. The sixth internal node is labeled 'v.u.n. Saalfeld' with a branch length of 670 to the left. The terminal taxa are: 'Bft Gera-Tinz' (from UG T), 'Bft Gera Gbf' (from UG G), 'Gera Hbf' (from UG), 'Bft Gera-Debschwitz' (from UGZ D), 'v.u.n. Lehnendorf/ Gößnitz' (from UGZ D), and 'Gera-Zwötzen' (from UGZ).

Das Diagramm zeigt den Eisenbahnknoten Senftenberg. Die Hauptbahn verläuft horizontal durch den Knoten. Die Nebenbahn zweigt von der Hauptbahn nach oben ab und führt nach Calau. Die NE-Bahn zweigt von der Hauptbahn nach unten ab und führt nach Cottbus. Die Hauptbahn ist mit 870 km/h beschildert, die Nebenbahn mit 820 km/h. Die NE-Bahn ist mit 820 km/h beschildert. Die Stationen sind als Bft Senftenberg B 7 (oben) und Bft Senftenberg B 10 (unten) markiert. Die Stationen Brieske (oben) und Cottbus (unten) sind ebenfalls eingezeichnet.
